

Nikki and Adam Yen

20.12.08

When Adam Yen proposed to his English girlfriend, Nikki, it didn't go quite as planned. "We were at home on the couch and Adam turned down the lights and lit a few candles while I was out of the room," explains Nikki. "When I came back in, I asked why he was sitting in the dark and switched all the lights back on!"

Despite ruining the romantic vibe, Nikki said, 'yes', the champagne was popped and plans to create the ultimate beachside wedding began, starting with booking the venue.

Long Reef Golf Club on the Northern Beaches of Sydney suited their theme perfectly and the bridal party looked as amazing as Nikki hoped. The bridesmaids' tonal blue dresses and the groomsmen's bright ties complemented the sea and sky perfectly.

But all eyes were on the beautiful bride. "My wedding dress was by Spanish designer Pronovias and had beautiful lace and beading on the bodice and train," says Nikki. The strapless neckline and fitted bodice flattered her figure and soft hair and make-up reflected the relaxed nature of the day.

After much laughing, dancing and eating with friends and family, the couple then set off for another beach; this time Matamanoa Island in Fiji for a 10-day honeymoon.

PHOTOGRAPHY JEREMY BYRNES

Bride's gown Marry Me 02 9960 5746
Bridesmaids' dresses Shezabella www.shezabella.com.au
Groom and groomsmens' outfits Industrie 02 9361 5333
Hair and make-up Rebecca Newell 0413 758 943
Flowers Enchanted Rose 02 9970 6855
Photography Jeremy Byrnes 02 9966 8224
Videographer White Designs 02 9360 1127
Stationery Pulp Creative Paper 02 9976 6688
Reception Long Reef Golf Club, Collaroy 02 9971 8113
Cake Jessica Ting 0423 245 052

“We had ceiling drapes with fairy lights in them and lots of tealights which added a romantic glow to the evening.”